INTRODUCTION
Trade is an activity carried out by humans since the beginning of their civilization. At first the trading process was only carried out face to face. Entering the era of technological development, this at least changes the pattern of community interaction in carrying out business, economic, social and other interactions. and efficient. According to Laquey, today the internet has become so large and powerful as an information and communication tool that cannot be ignored (Soleh et al., 2010).

According to survey data from the Association of Indonesian Internet Service Providers (APJII) the number of internet users in Indonesia is now wider and includes various groups. The results of the 2014 APJII survey were 88 million internet users and then increased to 132.7 million internet users in 2016. this shows a nearly 50% increase in Internet users in Indonesia within two years (APJII, 2017).

The development of the internet also encourages the development of online business. Online business shows high sales penetration in various categories showing high numbers and continues to increase. In line with the 2016 APJII survey data, in the following infographic, the growth of internet users and online shopping has an impact on consumer buying decision-making behavior. In the past, to make

It can be seen that the influence of these technological developments has caused the world of commerce to be required to offer a new trading concept through the internet network which is called e-marketing. Where with this new concept marketing can be done more quickly and accurately and traders can reach marketing areas throughout the world. The emergence of the internet in Indonesia, with such a large "market", is certainly one of the factors that has led to the emergence of a new advertising model, namely by using the internet or online, or what is commonly called digital marketing. Digital marketing is a marketing strategy that utilizes digital media, either through websites, mobile phones, e-mail, blogs, social media and others. (Wertime & Fenwick, 2008).

Innovative managers need to find ways and create unique businesses to be more effective locally, regionally, and globally so they can expand their revenues, reduce their costs, and increase their profits. Information is needed to support the achievement of competitive advantage for the company.

For marketers, understanding the nature and characteristics of the media is a very important reference in managing the strategy for selecting promotional media. The current marketing orientation is not just about conveying products from the hands of producers to consumers, but marketing also pays attention to whether consumers' needs and desires are met, whether consumers are satisfied with the product, and whether consumers will repurchase and become loyal to the product or brand.

In line with the development of the internet, a new understanding emerged regarding the marketing paradigm in the form of a modern marketing concept that is market or consumer oriented or a marketing revolution (Sutejo, 2006). In this context, marketing in the internet method has optimal efficiency in marketing and can make the right and optimal offers on internet social media.

Visiting Baitullah is the goal of all Muslims. Mecca and Medina are cities that have great virtues in the sight of Allah SWT. So it’s no wonder the interest of the Muslim community to visit it continues to increase year after year. A record shows that the Indonesian Umrah congregation is one of the largest in the world.

According to the Ministry of Hajj and Umrah of Saudi Arabia, the number of Umrah visas issued to Indonesia in 2016 reached 699.6 thousand pilgrims, an increase of 7.2 percent from the previous year. This figure makes Indonesia the country with the third largest number of Umrah pilgrims in the world. The largest number of Umrah visas issued by the Government of Saudi Arabia in 2016 was to Egypt with a total of 1.3 million pilgrims, up 17 percent from the previous year of 1.1 million pilgrims. The interest of the Indonesian population to carry out the Umrah pilgrimage is quite large. Because, to be able to carry out the fifth pillar of Islam, namely the pilgrimage, it takes tens of years to queue. This is what makes the umrah business in demand in the country.
